Overview of Jayaprithvi Multiple Campus (JMC)

Jayaprithvi Multiple Campus (JMC) was established on 1st Mansir, 2038 BS (1981 AD). It was inaugurated by Shanti Rajya Laxmi Devi Singh, the then queen of Bajhang on 10th Baisakh, 2039 BS along with the presence of the then king Deepak Jung Bahadur Singh, Gagan Jung Bahadur Singh and the founding campus chief Gajendra Bahadur Singh. It is situated in Jayaprithvi Municipality – 11, Bhopur, Bajhang, near the historic Bhopur Durbar and Satyavadi Secondary School. Similarly, it is around a kilometer faraway from Chainpur, the district headquarter of Bajhang towards the east beside the Chainpur – Taklakot Highway. It was named after the educationist, philosopher, activist, and humanitarian king, Jai Prithvi Bahadur Singh (Jayaprithvi Bahadur Singh), the National Hero of Nepal.

From its inception to 2074 BS, it was launched as a community-based public campus under Tribhuvan University (TU). Firstly, it had commenced its academic journey from Proficiency Certificate Level (PCL) i.e. Inter of Arts

(IA) under the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences. This PCL journey remained singly continued over 16 years (up to 2054 BS) from its establishment. To pursue their first university degree, students from Bajhang and neighboring districts (Bajura, Achham, Dadeldhura, Baitadi, and Darchulla) enrolled here since it was the only higher-level academic institution in the Hilly areas of the then Far Western Development Region. Furthermore, the campus authority was able to launch a Bachelor's Degree (BA) from 2054 BS along with the existing PCL degree up to 2061 BS. After that, to fulfill the diverse academic needs of the students, its authority instigated +2 in Education, Humanities, and Commerce streams in place of PCL and Bachelor of Arts (BA), Bachelor of Education (B.Ed.), Bachelor of Business Studies (BBS) and Master of Arts (MA) one after another.

However, the +2 degree no longer existed on campus because of government policy. Later on, along with the decision of the Senate, Far West University (FWU) in 2070 BS, its academic trajectory tended to shift from the community-based public campus (TU) to a government-based constituent campus. However, it was accomplished only by 2075 BS. Really, it was a historic academic shift for its people, students, affiliated Faculty, Staff, and stakeholders as a whole.

Infrastructure Development in JMC

Due to the massive earthquake with the epicenter in Bajhang on 16 Ashwin, 2080, all the academic and administrative buildings of JMC had been cracked badly, and nearly dismantled some of them. As a result, we could hardly initiate our day to day academic activities and the condition has somehow unchanged till now as well. Later on, we endeavored for its reformation and explored the way forward. To concretize our plan, Far Western University (FWU), Nepal, donated a three and half-storied multipurpose building with four rooms on each floor. Thereafter, the foundation laying ceremony was inaugurated by Mr. Yagya Raj Pathak, Registrar, FWU, on 2 Jeshtha, 2081 BS. Now, it has been under construction. Similarly, with the initiation of JMC administration, the Ministry of Physical Infrastructure Development, Sudurpashchim Province allocated 20 Lakh Rupees for the embankment of Bhopur Khola near the campus area. For its implementation, the committee has already been formed and construction will be started soon.

By understanding our transitional period after the massive earthquake, Nabil Bank, Bajhang granted 2 lakh forty two thousand Rupees for constructing two restrooms for boys and girls. Now, the construction has been accomplished. Similarly, our endeavors for infrastructure development will be continued in the days to come as well.

Both of the projects bear more than seventy lakh rupees to expend and accomplish the different activities related to the capacity advancement of Faculty, Staff, and students, environmental reform, connectivity, scholarship, and so on. Under Digitalization, we have already set up the IT Support Unit. For this, we have managed a room with furniture, high-speed connectivity (WiFi), digital gadgets, and so on. Similarly, we have already proposed an activity for the access of our students to TU E-Library under the Equity Grants. With this, our students will benefit by accessing online resources (books, articles, newspapers, archives, etc.) residing in the corner of their rooms. There are many dynamic activities to initiate under both of these projects in the days to come. Both projects are led by Dr. Dipak Raj Joshi, Coordinator, QAA Section, as a focal person.

Phone in Campaign for Students' Enrollment

JMC initiated this endeavor to enhance students' enrollment at its undergraduate level especially. As soon as the exam results of the 12 graders was released, we started calling the head teachers of the respective feeder schools and collecting the contact numbers of the students. For this, we assigned the responsibility to the Heads of Education Teaching Committee, Management Teaching Committee, and Humanities and Social Science Teaching Committee especially. During this campaign, JMC endeavored to survey the students' perspectives concerning the kinds of academic systems they prefer, kinds of the Academic Faculty they like to study in, and so on. With the help of the insights we achieved from this campaign, we thought and decided to visit our feeder schools in person.

Provision of Students Scholarship in JMC

Over a few years, we have been managing full and partial scholarships to our students as per the university rules and regulations. As per the university rules, 25% of newly enrolled Undergraduates and Graduates are liable for the scholarship. For this provision, we obey the prescribed norms of the university, and priority is given to those students who are from Dalits, Janajati, and minority communities along with poor family backgrounds. Being the majority of students are girls, we prioritize them as well. We consider the meritocracy of the students too.

Per year, the University Grants Commission (UGC), Nepal has also been providing scholarships to students, especially from the rural areas. Our students grab this opportunity as well. This year, nearly 100% of newly enrolled Undergraduates have been awarded scholarships both from JMC and UGC. For the betterment and benefit of our students, we are always eager to support them variously.
